

REVALUATION 2017

TIME IS SLIPPING AWAY

The 2017 Business Rate Revaluation is coming.

ACT NOW and we will tell you if you are paying too much!

Don't act, and by 2017 you probably will be!!

Contact the experts.

It's all too easy to accept that the amount you currently pay for your business rates is correct. But how do you know if you are paying more than you should?

The Government are undertaking a revaluation of all non-domestic properties for rating purposes.

The next Revaluation comes into force on 1 April 2017, determining the level of business rates to be paid to your local authority.

By acting quickly, money could well be saved by appealing against your Rateable Value.

Whatever your business, wherever you are, the quicker we receive your instructions, the quicker we can prepare to process an appeal to save you money.

- Prepare to Challenge your 2017 Rateable Value now!
- The Government will issue your draft assessment in October 2016.
- Collating data and evidence now will strengthen your case for a reduction.
- Instruct knowledgeable specialists to represent you.

For assistance, please contact:

Victoria Trafford Director

07710 043 234 victoria.trafford@harrislamb.com

James Ward Associate Director

07854 999 410 james.ward@harrislamb.com